WHO WE ARE

While other publications and resources serve the craft brew community, none of them focus specifically on the discipline of branding and marketing. Until now.

What we do

Published monthly, Craft Brand And Marketing Magazine (CBAM) will be available both digitally and in print. Each issue will deliver cutting edge content specific to the branding and marketing of the craft brewing community. We'll share success stories and techniques, showcase notable brands, introduce you to cool people, and highlight scores of innovative providers of products/services.

What's our reach

Our primary community is the brewing aficionados in the marketing, promo, sales, events management, merchandising and brand development areas. In addition, our reach will touch design firms, brand consultants, distributors, product manufacturers and other craft brew providers of professional services.

Our Story

Craft Brand and Marketing Magazine (CBAM) is the creation of F&J Publications LLC. For the last 20+ years, our team has published Commercial Construction & Renovation Magazine (CCR).

The monthly publication reaches nearly 25K+ industry professionals in the retail, restaurant and hospitality sectors. F&J also organizes the annual Commercial Construction & Renovation Summit, as well as numerous other networking opportunities throughout the year.
